Survey on demand for Vitamin D next winter

<https://www.surveymonkey.co.uk/r/HBNHHLM>

As you are probably aware, during last winter, there were problems obtaining injectable vitamin D products to use for prevention of vitamin D deficiency. This problem arose due to EU legislation that increased the withdrawal periods* for products containing vitamin A in food-producing animals to the extent that farmers stopped using it and therefore the manufacturers stopped making it. This included Bimeda who made Belavit AD3E. Injectable vitamin D products fall under the Veterinary Medicines Legislation which means that you must purchase these from your vet. It is illegal to bring them into the UK or to use these products in animals in the UK by other routes.

Claire Whitehead has been attempting to source an injectable product for the UK camelid market and found a suitable product that contains 100,000 IU of vitamin D per ml, 100,000 IU of vitamin A per ml and 30mg of vitamin E. The recommended dose would be 1000-2000 IU per kg of body weight given every 2 months during the winter months (October to April, starting in September if August is dull). This will be equivalent to 0.1-0.2ml of this product per 10kg of body weight. The product will come in 100ml bottles and you should, ideally, only keep bottles for one month after first using the bottle (after this the product deteriorates in quality and can harbour bacteria).

The manufacturer will make it for the UK market and supply to a UK distributor who is willing to import it for us. However, we need to give them an estimate of how much we will need as an industry. Therefore we need your help to estimate how much product is needed for the UK camelid industry. Please note that you are not placing an order at this point, but just helping us to calculate how much product is required so that we can ensure that it is available for you in time for this Autumn. [Please also note that just in case you are wondering, Claire is not doing this for financial gain! You will be buying your vitamin D products from your vet as usual and she will not be making any money out of trying to source this product for you!]

Please could all camelid owners based in the UK complete this very brief survey to indicate the volume of vitamin D product you would like to have in stock for the winter. Please also respond to say if you use oral products because that will help us understand the proportion of the industry that have responded and also what the demand is overall for vitamin D products for the UK camelid industry!

Research Survey

An Investigation into the Routine Vaccinations, Treatments and Supplementations of Alpacas

Fourth Year Veterinary Medicine student Abby Middleton, who studies at the Royal Veterinary College, is conducting an online survey about the routine vaccinations, treatments and supplementations that alpaca owners are currently giving to their alpacas. This is with the hope that it may aid us in getting a better understanding of the recommended routine treatments for our alpacas in the future!

This survey is aimed at anyone who owns any number of alpacas, whether you own 1 or 1,000, any response to the survey is helpful and extremely appreciated! The survey is completely anonymous and depending on the level of detail you wish to provide, the survey should take between 10-20 minutes to complete. This survey does not have to be completed in one sitting. Please share this survey with anyone you may know who owns an alpaca, as the more responses there are, the more useful your information will be!

Please find the link below where you will be taken to the introduction page of the survey which contains a few more details for you to read before deciding whether or not to begin the survey.

Thank you very much in advance for taking part! If you have any questions, please feel free to contact Abby Middleton at amiddleton18@rvc.ac.uk

Premature cria birth

Jo Bridge, Welfare officer from the East Anglia Alpaca Group, recently had a cria born at 305 days with undeveloped lungs which was struggling. Looking for help from any direction Jo put out a an appeal out on social media for oxygen to help him .

There was amazing response from the public supporting Jo but the most important call came from the Suffolk Fire service, who then came to visit the cria and they had a pet oxygen mask with them that fitted him perfectly .

Sadly he didn't make it but it did really help and Jo thought it might be of interest to other breeders to consider if they find themselves in the same situation .

Vets were consulted !

Somerset County Show needs an Organiser

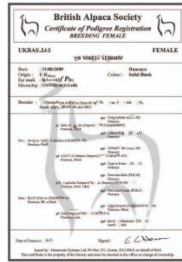

Due to the changing circumstances of various SWAG members the position of Show Organiser for the Somerset County Show is available.

The SWAG group have done well to secure the Halter and Fleece Show within the Somerset County Show and the opportunity to spread the joys of the alpaca world amongst the show visitors is too good to lose.

There are plenty of willing helpers and a good routine for the show but no one to lead the event. Previous organisers will be more than willing to help the new person with their knowledge.

If you feel that you could be the person to take this on then please drop me a line as soon as possible.

Paperless Registration

The Board recently discussed the potential for reducing its carbon footprint and making better use of materials and resources because it is the right thing to do for the environment and will save costs.

One area that emerged as a possible area for action was the routine printing and posting of pedigree certificates for all alpacas registered. Feedback, from a straw poll of members, showed that some love to receive the certificates, and others throw them in the bin as soon as they arrive!!

To accommodate this full range of certificate "treatment" and make better use of resources from now on a pdf copy of the certificate will be emailed to the owner, when confirming registration, with the option to have a paper certificate posted at no additional charge if requested.

The email text will read:

"Please find attached copies of the certificates for the animals you have Registered, Notified or Listed with the BAS. If you would prefer to receive these in a printed format via the post, please do let us know. There is no additional charge for this service."

The BAS Board hope you agree that this change does make sense and still means that all options are available to Members.
