BAS Sponsorship of British Vets to attend Camelid CPD

The British Alpaca Society (BAS) have recognised that there is a deficit in camelid-specific training among vets in the UK and that the costs of CPD may be a barrier to vets completing training in a species that may only cover a small proportion of their workload. BAS have therefore decided to try and bridge this gap by offering subsidies to help offset the costs of training. Last year we trained 20 vets and would like to do that again this year.

BAS are pleased to announce a partnership with Claire Whitehead at Camelid Veterinary Services Ltd to offer subsidised training to up to 20 UK-based vets per year to attend a Camelid Health Course for Vets. This will be run initially as an online course with a practical half day session at the end of the course to consolidate learning. Subsequent course occurrences may include an alternative format “traditional” physically present 1.5 day course if demand exists.

LET YOUR VET OR VET PRACTICE KNOW ABOUT THIS OPPORTUNITY

The next available course will be starting January 2023. Live sessions take place weekly and recording will be made if the delegate can't make it then..

For more information email: ceo@bas-uk.com. After BAS have confirmed that you are successful in gaining a place, complete the course registration and pay in full at www.ukalpacavet.com/courses. You must complete a separate registration for each delegate: Practice discounts for multiple vets are not available if using this offer.

Vets can send this form, when completed, to ceo@bas-uk.com

November Husbandry

- Feed hay ad lib, feed pregnant and nursing dams extra protein.
- Body score, check jaws, teeth and toenails, look for evidence of mites.
- Cria need to be vaccinated against clostridial disease.
- Wean and insert microchips in cria who are now 6 months old and get them logged onto the registry via 'Manage your Herd' in the on line herd book or by asking the registry office to send you a paper application form
- Consider giving an Autumn drench of vitamins and minerals (check with your Vet)
- Cut field hedges

Poisonous Plants Leaflet

Link to pdf

BAS has a comprehensive leaflet listing many plants that are not good for alpacas to eat. It is very helpful if you are planning hedge planting or moving to somewhere new. You can access the pdf via the BAS website, or you can get paper copies from Duncan if that suits (email ceo@bas-uk.com).

At first glance it does seem like there are an awful lot of poisonous plants! And there are, but most alpacas are pretty good at NOT eating things that are bad for them, especially if there is a good supply of hay available.

German alpaca merchandise

BAS Board Blog from Paul Hetherington Touring Europe

It's a busy time at the moment.

We are currently in Germany on the third leg of our European Tour 2022 judging a two day halter show. The tour started in Ireland a couple of weeks ago then moved on to Norway last weekend. It was a good chance to catch up with our Norwegian Alpaca friends.

102 fleeces were judged on Friday which is actually much more tiring than judging 160 animals at a halter show. Barbara had to adapt to judging under the Australian rules which doesn't seem to me to be as good as the New Zealand based system that we are moving to in the UK.

Saturday was a halter show for around 65 Huacayas with both age and colour champions being awarded. The age championship was interesting – contrary to popular opinion it wasn't always the white alpaca that came out top!

Sunday was filled with a series of seminars showing prospective alpaca owners what to look for and fleece evaluation for existing breeders.

I was the designated driver for the weekend which was fun as it's nearly 25 years since I last drove a lefthand drive car. I managed not to run over any Mooses!

Prices were a bit of a shock with the cheapest bottle of wine at the hotel coming in at £50!

After Germany it's off to Italy. We are going to take a couple of days off to go and have a look round Florence, which is somewhere I've always wanted to go, then on to Milan for more fleece and halter judging.

Hopefully all the travel plans will work out. So far two out of our four flights have been cancelled and rescheduled! The return from Norway changed from a leisurely 11.50am flight to a sleep depriving 06.30am flight.

BAS Autumn/ Winter Webinars

Please find below the first confirmed webinars for the Autumn/ Winter series for 22/23

Other titles will follow as they are confirmed. As we did last year the links are made available here to members so you don't need to register your interest. Where the presenters give their permission a recording will be made and posted on Youtube which can be accessed via the BAS Website members area. Click here to access previous Webinars.
